

Key Takeaways: RESPONDING TO CLIMATE BREAKDOWN & THE NATURE CRISIS. WHAT SHOULD A STOIC DO?

Guest panellist, Tom Hill joins Aurelius Foundation Founder, Justin Stead to discuss why Stoics should consider sustainability and what acting and advocating on sustainability could mean in practice.

Our Key Takeaways

1. In reality, deciding what role to play is not clear cut; it's probably a false dichotomy to present it as either 'inside' or 'outside' as we all adopt multiple roles in our lives.
2. Where we choose to position ourselves will be context specific and to a great extent depend on our own dispositions and personal styles.
3. The Stoic concept of virtue can apply on both 'sides' of the equation and help provide a guide as to how we should act
